IRS Will Staff Tax Help Site for Storm Victims in Gallatin April 20

TN-2006-38, April 17, 2006

NASHVILLE — The Internal Revenue Service, in cooperation with the office of U. S. Representative Bart Gordon, will offer tax help to victims of the recent storms and tornadoes in Sumner County.

The tax agency will have representatives at the Gallatin City Hall at 132 W. Main St. on Thursday, April 20, from 9:00 a.m. to 2 p.m. to answer questions about tax assistance available to victims of natural disasters. Workers from the Taxpayer Advocate's office and other branches of the IRS in Nashville will staff the site.

The IRS workers will be prepared to discuss topics including casualty loss claims, reconstructing lost or damaged tax records, and getting extra time to file or pay taxes.

Taxpayers who were affected by the recent storms or other natural disasters but who cannot visit the help site in Gallatin on April 20 can contact the IRS by calling 1-800-829-1040.
